O TRACE OF W. F. MILLER. PREACHERS SPEAK OF MR. HOBART

CROWDS VISIT HIS TOMB AND THE CHURCH WHERE THE VICE-PRESIDENT'S FUNERAL WAS HELD.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 26.-There was a large attendance at the Church of the Redeemer today, as it was expected there would be a special service in memory of the Vice-President. However, Dr. Magie did not preach. The Rev. Dr. Meeker occupied the pulpit. During the afternoon a constant stream of persons passed through the church to see the floral decora-

At St. Paul's Episcopal Church there was a special memorial service. The Rev. D. Stewart Hamilton, the rector, paid a tribute to Mr. Hobart as a man and a citizen, and said that his death was a great loss to the Nation and to the city which he had made his home through all his manhood days. The choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Peace, Blessed Peace," "Jerusalem the Golden" and "Oh, Paradise." Wood McKee sang a solo, "And God Shall Wipe Away All Tears."

At the First Presbyterian Church the Rev. Frank E. Miller, the pastor, preached upon the death of the Vice-President, reviewing the life of Mr. Hobart as he was known in Paterson, and recounting many kind deeds on the part of the Vice-President. The Cedar Cliff Church was draped in black, and the Rev. W. F. Vanderhoof, the pastor, took the life of Mr. Hobart as his text. In all of the churches the death of Mr. Hobart was referred to in the prayers.

There was a large crowd of visitors in the city to-day. The street in front of Carroll Hall was crowded all day. The greatest crowd was at Cedar Lawn Cemetery. There a special detail of police had to prevent the crowds from trampling upon the graves and plots about the trampling upon the graves and plots about the receiving vault.

It is not likely that Mr. Hobart's body will be buried. It is the intention of the family to erect a tomb upon the plot of land where Miss Fannie Hobart lies, and beside which it was supposed the body of Mr. Hobart would be placed. The work will probably be begun before long, so it is doubtful whether the body of the Vice-President will be removed from its present resting place until the tomb is erected and his body is placed in one of the niches.

CANDIDATES FOR VICE-PRESIDENT. SECRETARY ROOT, GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT AND OTHERS MENTIONED FOR

THE NOMINATION. There were still several United States Senators and Representatives and other politicians of Na-tional influence in the city yesterday. Many of those who came here on their way to attend the funeral of Vice-President Hobart remained over Sunday. Naturally there was more or less political gossip afloat. The general opinion was expressed that President McKinley would have little or opposition for a renomination. It was likewise said that Mr. Bryan appeared to be the only possibility upon the Democratic horizon. The gossip centred mainly around who would be nominated for Vice-President upon the Republican ticket. There was some talk that Elihu Root would be named. It was said that Mr. Root had the cordial friendship and support of the Administration, and that if he would take it he could have the nomination. B. B. Odell, fr., chairman of the State Committee, was also spoken of, and Congressman Sherman, of Utica, was suggested. Senator Chandler, of New-Hampshire, started a boom for Governor Rooseveit. He said that the Governor was popular over the country, that he had an admirable war record and stood well as an executive. Senator Chandler said further that Colonel Roosevelt was popular in Administration circles, and if he wante place he would have little trouble getting it. Mr. Chandler thought the Governor would add great strength to the ticket.

Senator Platt was asked about the possibility of Governor Roosevelt accepting the nomination, and expressed himself emphatically upon the subject. He said he was convinced that Governor Roosevelt was not a candidate, that he would not be one and was not a calculate that he would not be nominated. He wouldn't say who he thought was likely to be named.

Senator Thomas H. Carter, of Montana, who was formerly chairman of the Republican National Committee, but who when the silver question came up wandered afield and manifested a leaning towfree coinage, said that he didn't know who would be nominated for Vice-President, but he ADDRESSES A MASS MEETING AND IS RECEIVED WITH MUCH ENTHUSIASM.

They were both yesterday loud in their denunciation of trusts, the Administration's policy in the Philippines and imperialism. They predicted the renomination of Mr. Bryan.

THE SAMOAN AGREEMENT.

DENIAL OF A REPORT REGARDING THE ACTION OF THIS COUNTRY.

Berlin, Nov. 26.-The "National Zeltung." ferring to the rumors that the United States Government is disinclined to accept the Samoan agreement without territorial compensation, denies that the United States has asked compensation, and declares that the efforts "made to disturb the good understanding between Germany and the United States" may be considered to have failed.

The "Berliner Tageblatt" says:

We learn on good authority that the present negotiations solely concern the manner in which the United States Government shall give assent to the new agreement.

THE STATE CONSTABULARY BILL.

WISE ADVICE FROM A STRICT PARTY ORGAN.

Prom The Utica Herald.

The Herald has not favored this bill, but has contended that if it is passed ever it should apply to the whole State. State wide in its operations, it would be objectionable as an interference with home rule and a temptation in the hands of the party in power. The conferring Republican leaders did well if they concluded not to press the bill as a party measure. They would have done better yet if they had disowned sympathy with it. From The Utica Herald.

HOW HURT BOTH?

From The Albany Journal.

Of course, the proposal to establish State control of the office is unpopular. Every Democrat is against it because he thinks it will not help his party, and most Republicans seem to be opposed to it because they fear it will hurt their party. They oppose it practically on no other grounds. Thus this important question of legislation resolves itself simply into a partisan squabble.

A PLATT PAPER IN A HOSTILE CITY.

From The Buffalo Commercial.

There will probably be no effort made to pass a State Constabulary bill. So the denunciation of the Republican leaders by papers that call themselves Republican, but use every opportunity to put the party in a false position, was malignantly premature and indecent.

HOW CAN THEY VOTE FOR IT?

HOW CAN THEY VOTE FOR IT?

From The Rochester Post-Express.

How can they (the Rochester Senators) vote for it? Last winter they announced their opposition to the bill and so prevented it from being brought forward. They declared that the bill was victous in principle; that there was no necessity for it, that their constituents did not want it; that they could not approve of such a plain violation of the principle of home rule as this bill contemplated. Now, then, will Senator Platt or Chairman Odell tell us how the two Rochester Senators can support this bill in the next Legislature? And will they tell us how they can pass the bill against the votes of these two men?

IF SOME, WHY NOT ALL?

From The Watertown Times.

The proposition to include in the bill control of the police forces of several third-class cities will probably be an additional load upon it. If some, why not all, and if a few cities are chosen how long would it be before all would be included? In this city we prefer to control our police force ourselves. The bill is wrong and is bad politics. Nearly every Republican paper in the State has declared against it. Its passage would imperil the life of the Republican party in this State.

CUBAN SENTIMENT.

STRONG OPPOSITION EXPRESSED TO THE CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

Havana, Nov. 26 .- Some five thousand people attended the meeting of the delegates of the Cuban League and National party to-day. It was expected that the questions of the Civil Governorship and the appointment of the new Bishop of Havana would be discussed. As it turned out, these matters were only lightly touched upon. Senor Borges, who was one of the principal speakers, said:

Cuba has passed through many throes, but possibly there are more bitter agonies yet to be endured. When those who are managing our affairs from abroad think, either from design or error, of instituting a civil government among us and when a foreigner is appointed Bishop of us and when a foreigner is appointed Bishop of Havana, Cubans need calm judgment. Why is it that so many of our leading literary and pro-fessional men hold back from our patriotic plat-forms, while at the same time declaring them-selves patriots? These are the men who would have to direct the government of the country. They would reap the harvest of independence. Perhaps they are selfish. Perhaps they are too proud. Perhaps they prefer leaving the hardwork to workingmen like myself. The United States is a great and magnanimous nation. The Americans have helped the Cubans in their time of need but it is very to be shown that they are seen. need, but it is yet to be shown that they are as generous as at first they seemed. There have been Cubans who died in the hope of securing independence; and there are Cubans who are ready to imitate their example. Senor Gonzales said:

Cubans must not break the law by appealing to arms to settle this question of civil govern-ment. By such a course they would merely gratify those who wish to show the world that Cubans cannot respect law.

Senor Zavas said:

We Cubans watch over independence like parents over a sick child. It is but natural that we should not forget our many sleepless nights. There is naught for us to do but to finish our work and to secure independence.

From every part of the island communications are received by the local papers protesting against a Civil Governor General. Almost without exception every paper published in Spanish has objected.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 26 (Special).-The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, it is understood, will furnish the train which will carry the Maine's dead from either this city or Old Point when they are brought here by the battleship Texas from Havana. AUTOMOBILE BUSSES IN BROOKLYN, ARRANGEMENTS TO CONDUCT A SYSTEM UNDER THE GENERAL CARRIAGE COMPANY'S RIGHTS.

Preliminary arrangements, it is said, have been completed for the establishment of a system of auobile stages through the principal thoroughfares of Brooklyn, and to operate also between that borough and Manhattan over the New East River Bridge. A syndicate of Brooklyn capitalists and railroad men, organized by J. C. Church, formerly counsel for the Nassau Electric Company, has obtained the rights of the General Carriage Company to run automobile stages and other passenger vehicles in Brooklyn. It is understood, in fact, that to all practical intents the syndicate will form subsidiary organization in Brooklyn to the General Carriage Company of New-York.

P. B. Esler, a director of the General Carriage Company, answering the inquiries of a Tribune reporter, last night said: "It is true that a syndicate has been formed to operate automobile stages and carriages in Brooklyn under the charter of the General Carriage Company. Negotiations have been going on for some time to this end, and I understand that a preliminary agreement has been reached between the representatives of the two bodies. The General Carriage Company is empowered by a special act of the Legislature to run self-propelling stages and whicles through the streets of New-York, Brooklyn and Buffalo without the necessity of first obtaining the permission of the local authorities. The company is already at work building automobile busses, hansoms and carriages for use in this city.

"Recently Mr. Church, who was connected with the Nassau Electric Company, made a proposition to us looking to the establishment of a similar system of stages and carriages in Brooklyn under the charter of the General Carriage Company. That proposition was a satisfactory one, and as the fact settled.

"I am not in a position yet to say anything regarding the details of the transaction, nor upon what routes the busses will run. They will, however, undoubtedly be operated in all the thoroughfares where the traffic is heavy. I do not know the names of the men who are supporting Mr. Church in the undertaking."

READY TO GIVE UP THEIR LANDS.

INDIANS WILL GO TO MEXICO AS SOON AS THEY DISPOSE OF TRIBAL PROPERTIES.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 26,-W. J. Lyon, emigration agent of the Republic of Mexico, who was sent to the Territory to confer with the Indians regarding their emigration to the Mexican Republic, held ther conference with the representatives from the Cherokee, Choctaw, Chickasaw and Seminole tribes last night. The Indian representatives stated that a large number of the fullbloods would be ready to leave here as soon as the question of disposing of their tribal properties in the Indian Territory had been adjusted by the United States Government.

Dissatisfaction exists over the allotment pla der which the Government proposes to settle with the Indians. This is the cause which is prompting them to emigrate to a country where they will be enabled to set up a new tribal government. A proposition is made to the Indians to provide for them something like six million or seven million acres of land in Mexico, and in this connection it is learned that the Mexican Government is inter-eated that the exodus of the Indians take place

Soon.

The exact price to be paid for the land could not be learned in a talk with the representatives of the Indians, but that the Indians purpose leaving the Indian Territory there can be no doubt.

TO CONSOLIDATE NITRATE COMPANIES.

PLAN TO LIMIT THE PRODUCTION IN CHILI-TO

MAKE LONDON DISTRIBUTING CENTRE. Milwaukee, Nov. 26 (Special).—Herman G. Schmidt, Chillan Consul to Germany, now on a visit to relatives in this city, is engaged in effecting a consoli-dation of forty nitrate companies of Chili. The combined output of the companies is 3,000,000,000 pounds a year, and the amount of capital invested in the properties is $81,000,000. The object of the consolidation is to limit the output of the product. He is now on his way to London to close the deal. Mr.

Schmidt said:

I have already secured the co-operation of half of the largest producers on the west coast of Chili for the consolidation, and on my way to Germany I shall stop at London to negotiate with the English companies for their co-operation. I have no doubt the arrangement will be made. The plan of those interested is to make London the distributing centre. There will also be a branch in Hamburg.

INVESTIGATION OF MAINE EXPLOSION.

NOTHING KNOWN OF IT OFFICIALLY AT WASH-INGTON. Washington, Nov. 26.-Some interest was created in official circles here to-day, particularly among naval officers, by the publication of the results of what purported to be a secret investigation regard-ing the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana Harbor, which, the story said, was blown up by gun cotton torpedoes planted in the bay for that purpose. Diligent inquiry, however, fails to show that any official investigation has been made at the direction of the authorities here, although it is suggested that the officials at Havana have discretionary powers to make an investigation should they see fit, and that it is just barely posshould they see fit, and that it is just barely pos-sible that as a result of such action some addi-tional information bearing on the subject has been secured. Captain Luden Young is the port officer at Havana, and it is possible, said one official to-night, that he may have dug up the information printed to-day. Secretary Long of the Navy was much interested in the story, but said he had no information on the subject.

Physically, as you may know, he is a very small man, but both his mental and bodlly activity is great. During the first months of the war, while he was attached to General Miles's staff, the progress of the regiment toward becoming a well equipped, well drilled and well set up body of men was slow and unsatisradical change occurred, and although we were among the last to go we did our share of the work. To my mind we owe it to General Funston that we were able to do it as we did, and that the Government at Washington sends him back to Manila looks as though it regarded his services in about

"Now that the end of the fighting seems near at hand I suppose that other things will come to the fore—internal improvements, opening up the country, finding out what it consists of, and the like. In connection with this, a rumor I heard while in Manila may not be without interest. It was to the effect that Manila would not long continue as the capital of the Philippines or as its principal port of entry, for the reason that it is not the best place. Originally built because it lay at the mouth of the Pasig River and could reach by water all the region surrounding and drained by the Lake of the Bay, at a time when transportation in ships was practically the only method in vogue, it was constructed on the shores of a bay which is not the best or most convenient that there is on Luzon, owing to the changed conditions of modern methods of transportation. Manila Bay is very shallow, making it necessary for the work of unloading to be carried on by lighters, or, as they are called there, caseos. Another thing against it is that it lies in the line sometimes taken by the typhoon, that most decidedly Eastern storm, which time and again has swept into the bay from the China Sea with a force destructive to the shipping lying there, and even to the town itself. Subig Bay, lying a short distance to the north, I was told, had deep water near shore, while its position, together with the hills that surround it, renders shipping there safe from the onslaughts of typhoons. It is true that no waterway drains into it from the interior, but in these days of railroads that is not an absolute necessity, and there seemed to be a widespread belief when I was there that the end of the insurrection and the firm establishment of peace would see the principal port of entry and city of Luzon built, or, rather, started on the shores of Subig Bay." "Now that the end of the fighting seems near a hand I suppose that other things will come to the

At length he arranged with the captain of a small steamer to run him in as near the coast as possible, and then put him over in a small boat. This was done late one evening, in order the better to evade detection. The steamer started away, but owing to the roughness of the sea Knight's boat upset. Those on the steamer not perceiving the mishap the ship held on her course, and Knight's chances of seeing another daybreak were somewhat problematical However, his great physical strength saved him for he was able to right the boat, but only to have it again upset. He righted it again, however, and was this time able to keep it up. In the morning he got ashore, and was picked up by a Spanish patrol and sent to Havana. "Knight was brought up in France, and enlisted in the French army in the France-German War. Later he saw service as a volunteer against the Arabs in Algeria. He has been everywhere and done everything. He once crossed the Atlantic in a small cutter. He was chief of a treasure hunting party to Trinidad. In 1891 he was collecting materials for a book in the Himalayas when the fight with the Hunza Nagas tribes began. He joined the English column, and on account of his previous military experience was placed in command of some native levies. For this service he received a medal.
